The Andante Espressivo was composed by Debussy in 1880, when he was in Fiesole, working for Tchaikovsky's benefactor, Nadezhda von Meck. It was lost until 1982 and only published in 1996. Sandro Fuga was a prolific composer who lived from 1906 to 1994. His three movement quintet has many admirable features. This will be the first London performance.

Hampstead Parish Church is a beautiful eighteenth century church with excellent acoustics and a new Grotrian Steinweg Grand Piano
